HYDRO-ELECTRIC DAM GIVES WAY
FOR HIGH TIDE AND POWER.

Owing to an accident on Sunday when twenty feet of the hydroelectric dam was washed away by the flood of the river, Fort Saskatchewan is without electricity. Six weeks will be required to repair the damage and to supply the town's needs until everything is in working shape again. During the time the power plant are being overhauled, to be placed in commission temporarily.

The gates in the dam had been closed, but the water had been allowed to the top of the dam because the dam gave away right where the strain was greatest and the accident is said to have been due to faulty engineering. No one was injured.

The dam was constructed originally at a cost of $27,000, and the damage resulting from Sunday night's mishap is estimated at $35,000.

PRESS AGENTS SAY

AT THE LYCEUM

The offering for the last half of the year commanding Thursday afternoon at the Lyceum Theatre will be the Lewis and Lake company in the Persian Belles, which is a farce of the best. The scene has to do with a poor, pecked husband whose wife will not let him stay out of her sight. The story is a tiresome one, but the method of running it is the cause of many hearty laughs, the songs are in capable of saving the various principles of the company, and the dancing步步子, which have become great favorites with the Lyceum audience.

Next week will be the last of the Lewis and Lake company, as prior booking forbids a longer engagement.

MADAME SHERRY.

What the New York Review says of Nordica who will sing at the Empire Theatre for one night Wednesday, November 1st, that is, the first of the series opening for the Singers next Monday: "Mine, Nordica, first of the grand opera stars to begin work this season, is a singer of the first rank, and one of the year's best tonights, assisted by Miss Whitney, the basso, of Washington, and Romanyne Simmons, accompanied, that singer, who in the course of the year, since last April, has given 150 performances in the same city, rest, and, indeed, to an enthusiastic audience, among whom were many who have heard Nordica on foreign土。 The grand repertory included two Japanese songs, 'The Field Cathay, Schumann's 'Der Nixebaum,' Weber's 'En Avril,' Vidal's 'Arlette,' a duet from 'Le Nozze di Figaro,' 'Le Capriccio,' 'M. Whitney,' and 'The Viking,' by Shchedrin, as well as her favorite operatic arias.

The opera house was sold out and had been for months past, so advanced had the interest in the voice of Nordica been sufficient to insure a crowded house. The singer which has pleased musical critics all over the civilized world, and however, has sold out and orders from European numbers and as highly prized ensembles from her own compatriots, proved as popular as ever. It was a great, great success, responded time and again to the demand for encores.

Mme. Nordica is travelling in private, but she is enjoying all the comforts to which she has become accustomed in her own home, which she opened a few days ago, just before starting on her tour. At the tour will take her through the principal country in Canada and the West, in which accommodations are after a while, Frederic Shippman, her manager, has seen to it that the singer has a room to meet any emergency that might arise.

From here Mme. Nordica will jump to Lincoln and from there to Salt Lake City, where she is to sing in the great Mormon Tabernacle, with an audience of 10,000, its marvelously human organ and the like most wonderful acoustics in the world. She will reach Salt Lake City on October 21st, and from there to Taf, and as they have been friends for many years, the singer has invited him to be the guest of honor at the concert on October 22nd.

The next few weeks the singer will spend in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle and other coast towns, after which she goes up into Canada for a month.

After her appearance with the Philharmonic in New York and at the Boston Opera House, Nordica will make her second tour under Mr. Shippman's direction.

YOUNG LIBERAL MEETING
A FORTUNATE OCCURRENCE

If the gathering of young liberals which took place in the Young Liberal club rooms last night means anything at all it means that the true spirit of liberalism, that aggressive democracy which will not rest, is more virile in defeat than in victory.

The history of all nations and all parties within nations has shown that it was not in adversity that they were in danger, but in their years of easiest success. In Alberta, where practically the whole country is in favor of those broad doctrines which constitute the liberal faith, years of success at the polls threatened to permit the fighting spirit which is the greatest asset of liberalism to "fade away and gradually die." A reverse is good for liberalism and good for the country. It sheds from the ranks those liberals for revenue only who flock to the standard in times of success, parasites who are a bar to progress and who disappear when adversity overtakes the party.

A word said by George B. Fraser at the meeting last night expressed the idea tersely. The liberal party in this city, he said, is clean. Our chances of success depend on keeping it clean. When we see a man attempting to use the party for his own purpose it is our duty as liberals to shun that man. In the opposition we have no difficulty in doing so, and by doing so we must triumph.

That is the right kind of liberalism and it is the liberalism on which the party was built and arose to greatness.

The expression by Hon. C. W. Cross, that it is the duty of the government to protect the settlers in the situation brought about by the coal strike in the Pass rings true. "Coal," he says, "is as much necessary to the maintenance of life on the prairies as light and air. It is the duty of the government to see to it that the lives of the settlers are not imperilled through the lack of coal. If the operators will not settle the strike it is up to the government, and any government which failed to take action in such a case would be derelict in its duty. It is my idea that the government should, if it becomes necessary, go so far as to undertake the government operation of coal mines. This may sound extreme, but the emergency requires extreme measures, and it is by facing and grappling with such problems that the liberal party will triumph."

"In the language of the baseball fan: 'That's talking to them!' The province of Alberta cannot afford to have it go out to the world that it does not protect the lives of the settlers whom it brings into the country; that it is willing to allow women and children, whose lives on the lonely prairie are hard enough under any circumstances, to suffer through the callous action of a group of coal operators who are already the beneficiaries of a gift from the commonwealth of one of the most valuable resources which the country has been found to contain. If it must be government ownership, then the liberal party is big enough to undertake the solution and to force it through.

Bramley-Koore's opinion that the fundamental principle of liberalism requires freedom of thought and freedom of action is in line with the best opinion of the times. No bowing to a fetish formed by our forefathers will serve in this day and generation, and no party which does not keep a little ahead of the times can ever hope to survive. It is only by the freedom of expression, of thought and of action by the members of the party that the party can become purely democratic and can be representative of the best thoughts of that great big public who with their ballots create all governments.

Jones McGeorge's expression that a tariff commission as proposed by Mr. Borden is a reversal to the ideas of Charles I and George III is the clarion note of pure democracy. Presented as he presented it, the absurdity of the Borden proposal is too obvious for even serious consideration. That the public should elect representatives to carry on their business and that the taxing power should then be taken out of the hands of these representatives and be placed in the hands of a commission which was not answerable to the people who elected the government is so clearly wrong that only a reactionary could think of such a thing. As Mr. McGeorge puts it, that is what cost the British empire half of the continent of North America, which is now the United States.

All in all, the young liberal meeting was a fortunate and timely occurrence. It cleared the air of any subterfuge or hypocrisy, of any sentiment of concession to the foey ideas which will warp a nation's growth, and gave everyone present a grasp of the real issues and the real solution.

The road is clear, the forces are in line, and it will be strange indeed if the young liberals do not become a greater force in the affairs of the city and this province than they have ever been before.

CZARISM NOT PROFITABLE
IN CORPORATION MANAGEMENT

If the claim made by the machinists in the Grand Trunk Pacific shops is founded on fact, and it seems to be a matter of record, that corporation is guilty of conduct which should be beneath the dignity of such an institution.

In their claims for better terms the men have been conciliatory and forbearing. They asked for a commission, and when the commission was appointed the company calmly ignored not only the men but the government of the Dominion of Canada by failing to send their representative to the sessions of the commission. When the employees went farther and appealed to the man at the head of the corporation they were ignominiously and unceremoniously locked out.

In the conduct of the affairs of large corporations it has become in this latter day pretty generally recognized that the spirit of czarism is not profitable, to say nothing of its moral justice. This lesson, however, has apparently not percolated into the minds of the men in the management of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

DAMAGE TO CROPS
IS VERY SLIGHT
HAS MADE NO DIFFERENCE IN THE YIELD IN THIS DISTRICT.

The damage to crops in the Edmonton district by frost has been so slight as to make practically no difference in the wheat yield, according to Secretary Fisher. The local grain trade man who was a witness in yesterday's investigating conditions where threshing is being carried on on the farm of A. J. O'Brien, Glendale, said: "Old Mr. O'Brien has about 100 acres of growing wheat that will yield slightly more than 30 bushels per acre," said Mr. Fisher, this morning. "His fall wheat crop is about 100 bushels per acre. The indications are that it will give a greater yield than the spring wheat." The man who threshed the wheat for Mr. O'Brien is about the average for the district, said Mr. Fisher. Mr. Lawrence of the Bijou theater, accompanied Secretary Fisher to Clover Bar, to take moving pictures of the threshing operation.

As yet grain has been shipped from the Edmonton district. No wheat has been delivered in Edmonton by the threshers, but the threshers are in the district. Many of the outfitts have not started in with their season's work. The Alberta Milling Company, which operates the mill at the week on market day, has not yet started in with its work. Farmers who have not yet started to market their grain until weather stops the plowing.

Very few farmers from cars at Allard, who have received by the G. N. R., according to information obtained at the divisional superintendent's office this morning, although grain is being shipped from the cars on the division east of Battleford. Many orders for cars are coming in from G. N. R. points between Battleford and Humboldt.

The results of Guelph and Ottewell are closed down for repairs.

When they commence operations again, the carmen will use the grain in the cars to keep the grain in the cars at the time of delivery.

The results of Guelph and Ottewell are closed down for repairs.

Opening day came and the province A. P. Davis, K. G. passed out that the king was a party to the case, only as represented by the provincial treasurer. He went on to say that the provincial legislature was not as powerful in its own sphere as Imperial parliament. The only way in which any act could be passed or nullified was by a majority vote of the members at the polls. Whether the legislature was right or wrong in confounding the funds of the railway "to protect them from being plundered," was for the people alone to decide.

No one would read the act without seeing that its intention was to get the hands of the people of the province the $8,000,000 that had been taken from the railway. This had been described as "burglary"—he would not be for a moment confused with the term.

"If the Alberta legislature is not entitled to this money, who is? The road is not going to be built—the act is practically repealed—it can't be built because it is not wanted, but the sale was effective nevertheless."

But whether the results of the act were or were not true affected the king in his opinion in the slightest degree. He had not, however, been shown that any were false.

Of the commencement of construction of this line there was no evidence which could be adduced by the court. Such as had been presented was vague and in definite.

To prove that the commissioners did not know what they were about, it was shown that the commissioners, in their report, had failed to get the plans approved within one year. Any construction undertaken before the company was approved, was of necessity done out of pocket, and the commissioners had some proof of the truth of the act in the result that default had been made by the company.

Act Ultra Vires

Mr. Davis' contention that the act in question was ultra vires because it encroached on the powers of the federal banking legislation. He cited authorities to show that in the event of certain dominions exercising their banking powers, both might affect the legislative powers in regard to some matters properly dominion, might lie with the provinces.

But whether it had been proved in the previous declaration that $10,000 belonging to John Jones should become the property of Mr. Smith, that said Mr. Davis would have to prove his legislation, it would be legislation dealing with property and civil rights. The duties and privileges of banks were not referred to in the bill, any more than they were today in the misnaming of money in their custody. The Waterways legislation provided a clear definition of the location of the Waterways' assets.

The Waterways' assets, the construction of Jones and Smith, had been taken into account by the Royal bank to prove that the Waterways bill was essentially within the power of the province.

Lazification dealing with property and civil rights was essentially within the power of the province. The matter was a pure provincial one. The province had decided that the railway should be wiped out.

EASY TO MAKE HITS

"Do you know?" said John McGraw, "that a large percentage of the hits in baseball are made when they are runners on first and third? That is the best time in the world to get a hit, because the whole infield is tightened up and stationary."

The first baseman is glued to his spot, the second baseman is waiting for a hit pretty tight on an angle, the third is watching the runner. The shortstop and the second baseman are getting ready for a throw, the pitcher over one shoulder, the catcher over the other, the second base. The infield is unable to cover any ground, and hitting under these circumstances is easy."

"But the Cardinals star is no Mathewson. He lacks the steadiness and dependability of Mathewson."

Mathewson is always at his best in clearing a base, hitting the runner, getting him out, and getting him out in a series clash. He has been looking better each passing week for a month, and is in excellent condition, to be ready when an opportunity is given him. Mathewson has the edge on Bender and Marquard, is a much better pitcher than Jack Coombs, and is the best.

In the interim department Mathewson has had a chance to get in shape, and pretty good shape, too. He has all kinds of chances to pull off wins. We can work the double steal, the delayed steals and all kinds of plays that will not be possible for the hitting team than he did then—youth and a faster one, but when Mathewson is right there is only one answer.
